Seating Plan Clarified Commission Presented Facts On Curling Club Arrangement

By GENE GRUBA, STATESMAN EDITOR

A number of rumor-fired, indignant students stirred up the UMD campus last week over the hockey seating arrangement at the Curling Club. Tuesday, Dec. 4, Dr. Emmett Davidson, Chairman of the Athletic Committee, and Lloyd Peterson, Athletic Director, appeared before the Student Commission to clarify the situation.

The factual picture, as presented by Davidson and Peterson, involves an inadequate Curling Club, an inflexible athletic budget and a high quality hockey schedule.

1. The Curling Club has a seating capacity of 1,850-1,900, and UMD's enrollment is 2,119. In the event that the potential school spirit should come to life, according to Davidson, "we've had it." Because, as he continued, the student is "required" to purchase a season ticket through his activity fee and consequently he cannot and will never, be denied admission to any athletic event in which a UMD squad is participating.

Because student attendance has never exceeded 700 to date, the problem should not arise in the near future. This should afford the athletic department enough time to come up with a feasible solution. But if it should happen that the entire student body turned out for a game, Davidson stated, "we'd get them all in if we had to hang them from the rafters or kick out the south wall."

2. Regarding the inflexible athletic budget: Peterson is responsible for maintaining an athletic program which will stay out of the red. The student activity fee only supplies his department with approximately one-half of its financial needs. It is readily admitted that the hockey program could be maintained without the receipts from 700 "50 yard-line" seats at $12.50, but only if we would be satisfied with a smaller schedule composed of strictly MIAC competition.

3. Concerning the high-caliber schedule: UMD is strong hockey-wise and there are two main reasons: 1. This is traditionally a winter sports area, and 2. Because of the Canadian hockey players who have migrated to UMD.

If we plan to continue drawing high-quality hockey players without subsidizing them, we must at least provide them with a full schedule of high-caliber competition. To arrange games with non-conference pucksters like St. Boniface we have to offer them a guarantee. This guarantee cannot be provided without outside help. The outside help this year comes from 700 "50 yard-line" seats at $12.50.

The faculty has not denied that the primary reason for athletics is the student body. And it is apparent that both the Athletic Committee and the Athletic Department have acted in good faith. The question for the student body to decide is: does it want high-caliber hockey here?

The only possible error is that the individuals responsible for the seating arrangements might have relied too much on the downtown boosters. If these "boosters" manage to fulfill their 700 seat commitment, all is well. But if they miss their goal, and it seems that they will, next season's schedule will suffer. Because whatever is lost on hockey this season will have to be paid through next year's appropriations.

'Army's' Doctor To Talk on India

"Medical Frontiers in India" will be the topic on which a 37-year veteran of medical missionary work in India will speak at an open meeting of the UMD chapter Sigma science research fraternity, at 3:30 p. m. Monday (Dec. 10) in Science building room 150. He is Dr. Wilhelm Noble, a colonel in the Salvation Army.

Moses Passer, associate professor of chemistry and president of the UMD chapter, today invited any interested person to attend the session. Arrangements are in charge of Elliot Weinberg, assistant professor of physics, chapter vice president and program chairman.

Staff doctor for 40 hospitals in southern India, Dr. Noble maintains headquarters in Bombay. A specialist in diseases of the eye, nose and throat, he is a fellow of the American College of Surgeons and the Inter-

Twenty-six UMDites will be listed in the 1956-1957 volume of "Who's Who Among Students in America," Miss Harriet Harrison, student counselor, revealed Monday. The book, published yearly, contains pictures and word sketches of outstanding college students throughout the United States.

'Petey' Chairman Ignatius States Goal for Coming Christmas Drive

by NEIL LANDRY

General Chairman, Dale Ignatius, of Gamma Theta Phi fraternity has announced that the quota set for the 1956 "Petey" drive Dec. 10-12 will be $250. The fund raising is put on annually at Christmas time to purchase presents for needy children in the Duluth area. Gamma solicits contributions from individual students and from student organizations on campus, buys gifts and wraps them for distribution by the County Welfare Board.

In the words of chairman Ignatius, Petey was conceived of "to help the community and to bring the spirit of Christmas to as many underprivileged children as possible."

I Remembered

The first Petey drive in 1953 netted enough money for gifts for about 40 children of from one to sixteen years of age; in 1954 gifts were provided for 50 of Petey's brothers and sisters, and last year the drive topped $300, good for 75 individual gifts.

In charge of the distribution of these gifts is Mrs. Florence Frarey of the County Welfare Board, who provides the list of boys and girls who will receive the presents. She emphasizes the urgent need of the Welfare Board for contributions such as those provided by the Petey drive. In most cases, the gift the underprivileged child receives through the generous donations of UMD students for Petey is the only one the child will get for Christmas. One welfare worker reported that in his district alone, 40 children would receive nothing at all on Christmas morning unless donations to the relief agency took a sharp upturn.

When the members of Gamma begin their soliciting on Monday, Dec. 10, students will receive colorful tags with a picture of Petey to show that they have remembered him. A display will run concurrently in the bookstore window indicating the progress of the drive. After the drive ends on Wednesday, a purchasing committee will buy suitable toys, clothing, sleds, and skates for gifts and will wrap them with the help of Sigma Psi Gamma sorority.

Dec. 10 will be the deadline for contributions from campus organizations.

UMD Requests on Agenda

By SANDIE WEINBERG

Students at UMD are aware that the 1957 Minnesota Legislature will be meeting this January, and that University building and maintenance appropriations requests will then be reviewed.

There are many people who believe that except for tuition, all of the costs of operating the University are met by legislature appropriation. However, in addition to student-tuition, there is income from Federal funds, from gifts, and from industry grants. But the State of Minnesota does provide 50 per cent of the costs of maintaining the University. Procedure for obtaining these funds is as follows: each college of the University holds meetings and submits their recommendations to the Governor of the State, who in turn makes changes and turns the report to the Board of Regents.

The Board, which is the only body able to determine the actual amount of money which it will request of the State Legislature, has called upon the legislative body for a general maintenance appropriation of 7.1 million dollars for the 1957-58 fiscal year. It has also asked for a total lump sum of 35.9 million dollars to cover the next two years.

Provided in the program for the two-year period are: 283 new faculty positions; faculty salary increases of 15 per cent the first year and an additional 5 per cent the second year; some civil service salary increases and staff additions; additional funds to meet price increases and to permit adequate physical plant upkeep; and a $15 per year tuition boost for each student.

Last year, UMD made specific requests for 3 buildings; the Science addition and the Humanities buildings, now being built, and the Social Science building for which appropriations were refused. This year, it is probable that more building funds will be requested.

Proclamation:

We, the members of Sigma Tau Kappa fraternity, have unanimously decided to turn the clothing we have collected for the purpose of a rummage sale over to the Hungarian Refugee Clothing Drive. It is the feeling of our fraternity that the alleviation of human suffering is of the most vital concern, especially now to all the fraternities.

We strongly urge all students to contribute to this worthy cause.

Prexy and Veep Meet With U of M Staff

Pete Thorsteinson and John Hill represented UMD Nov. 28 in a discussion in the Minneapolis home of Dean Williamson, Academic Dean of the University of Minnesota. Other participants in the discussion were the All-University Congress, the Student Union Board president, the inter-fraternity presidents and the Pan Hellenic president.

Meeting quarterly to discuss the problems of students, faculty and administration, the group tries to acquaint each organization with the goals and accomplishments of other organizations.

C. L. Johnson, staff member of the University, predicted the future growth of the three campuses, and James L. Morrill, president of the University, told of legislative action sought by the University. The achievements, plans and present projects of the All-University congress were related by Jim Greeno, president.

Hoping that the group will meet at UMD soon, Pete Thorsteinson said, "I am happy that John and I could attend the Minneapolis meeting because I feel that informal discussion contributes to a stronger relationship between campuses."

Darlands to Host Tea

WASHBURN 109

Dateline STATESMAN, Friday, Dec. 9, 1955. "Recommendations now before the scheduling committee of the University Senate may result in a one-day "study break" between classes and examinations."

Evidently these recommendations were routed to the "circular file" because we have no study break and have actually lost ground in this area. This year, finals will begin on Friday instead of the traditional Saturday.

This paper can see merit in the "break recommendation" and it takes this opportunity to register its disagreement with setting exams ahead.

One other point for consideration is that students participating in practice teaching are apparently required to attend their teaching sessions throughout exam week. No comment necessary.

ONE ARTICLE PER STUDENT

Educational freedom is probably most important to those who are deprived of it. And we probably don't fully appreciate it here. It is difficult to calculate what degree of the recent Hungarian uprising was caused by students, but we can be certain that the revolution was caused because of the lack of the freedoms without which our educational system could not exist.

The Student Commission is conducting a campus clothing drive for Hungarian students in conjunction with World University Service. Percentage-wise, as the greater UMD student body resides at home we could and should make an excellent showing. Not just to put on a good show, but because these students have assisted a cause we should be solidly behind.

The goal here has been set at one article of clothing per student. An old shirt or skirt really seems like very little to contribute.

Religion: man

Merlin I. Seal

Associate Pastor

First Lutheran Church

Man's place in the Christian religion remains the same today as it has ever been in history. Viewed from today's perspective man is still a sinner invited by God to enter in upon the way of life and salvation. Man is still as perverse today as in ages past. History does not attest to any progressive evolution of man's spiritual state. Man does not progress from sinner to saint in five generations. But, by the grace of God in Christ he becomes a saint in his own generation!

However, outward circumstances have a bearing on the man of today. Today the shadow of automation hangs over man's world. As the means of production, and the distribution of goods, become more mechanized, man tends to see less and less connection between his small task and the progress of humanity. He fails to see that his work, however small, is making a contribution to the welfare of society. When he does not have this satisfaction, he loses a sense of meaning in his daily life, and the joy of knowing that he is serving God as he serves mankind.

Man's place in religion today is still to ally himself heart, soul and mind with Christ. Only as man today lives a vital and virile Christian life will he know the satisfaction of serving God and his fellowmen in the highest dimension of daily living.

Since man spends so much of his lifetime in earning his livelihood he should consider what he does for a living basic to his Christian life. For instance, if his work requires him to be dishonest and deceitful, then he ought to change his occupation. As a disciple of Christ he cannot expect the undergrinding of God's presence day by day if his daily work conflicts with his spiritual convictions.

The christian life is not some cloistered virtue only to be examined and revealed on Sunday. Christ intended that man's total personality should be committed to God. Life fits together as a unit. There are no compartments labeled sacred and secular for the thorough-going Christian man. All of living is a holy experience!

For the first time in history, man has not only the power to change history, but he also has the power to blot it out. He can blow his world to pieces so that it will be as though all history had never been. That marks a milestone in the story of the earth.

As in the past so now Christ is a Savior. He read: "his name shall be called Jesus, for He will save his people from their sins." He can save the world from the sin of war and suicide and extinction. But man must find his place in Christ today. To be without Christ today is to move in the direction of world suicide. For you to be personally without Christ is to move into your soul's eternal condemnation and destruction.

Info Necessary

A significant change in procedure is required for filing your Monthly Certification of Training for the period December 1-31. After filling out your form in duplicate at the table near Room 104A (ticket office), you are invited to present:

1. Your fall quarter grade cards.
2. Your winter quarter receipted fee statement.

You should report to Room 104A on January 3, 4, or 7 to receive your check on January 20. To avoid an overload on Monday, January 7, it is suggested that as many as possible sign up on January 3 or 4, provided grades have been received from OSPS.

The grade report is proof that you actually completed the course work upon which you based your previous claims for veteran's benefits. The grades W, Y, or Z show that you and did not complete a course. If you needed the credit hours involved in order to obtain the benefits that you drew, you must show evidence of the last date in attendance for any such course.

DO NOT LEAVE YOUR FORMS WITHOUT CARRYING OUT THE ABOVE PROCEDURE—THEY WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED. Mrs. Munro or Mrs. Majerle will accept your forms for checking.

Veterans not returning winter quarter may sign up for the period December 1-22 after they have completed their exams, and Mrs. Majerle will check with the Office of Student Personnel Services when grades are available.

MA 4-1550 Alumni News

The Alumni club of Duluth, whose purpose is to unite alumni of the University of Minnesota, UMD and UMD's predecessor, the Duluth State Teachers college, is searching for a co-ordinator to arrange social events and service projects and to manage the publication of a quarterly bulletin for members.

Working jointly with the U to raise money for scholarships and other university expenses, the club is kept informed on school activities by Clarence Anderson, director of the UMD News Service and chairman of the club's public relations committee.

Gordon Eddolls is president; Dr. Dale Amundson, vice-president; Ray Rouse, Jr., treasurer, and Ruth Bard, secretary.

"Hello . . . Is Sandy there?"
"Just a moment please."

After a short pause the new Duchess of Duluth, Sandra Puglisi, was on the phone.

"Hello."

"Hello, Sandy. We here at the STATESMAN thought it would be interesting to get your reactions on being crowned Duchess of Duluth."

"Oh, it was wonderful! But I'm still in a kind of daze."

"How did you feel when they placed the crown on your head?"

"It was confusing . . . I really don't know. It seemed so incredible!"

"What was the crown like? Do you get to keep it?"

"Well, it had all kinds of jewels in it . . . mostly rhinestones . . . with a jeweled D in front. It was just beautiful! I don't know for sure yet if I get to keep it. Carol kept hers last year."

"Who was the person who crowned you?"

"Carlton Smith, the speaker at the Women's Institute. He's from New York, I think."

"What will your duties be as Duchess of Duluth? Will they interfere with your school program?"

"I guess I'll act as hostess at different parties . . . greet the governor when he comes to Duluth . . . represent Duluth at the Winter Carnival and Aquatennial in Minneapolis and other activities. I'm really not too sure yet. And these activities definitely will NOT interfere with school."

"What does it mean to you to be known as Duchess of Duluth?"

"Well, it will mean getting to know our city better and to know the people in it. And also to know people and places around Duluth."

"Thanks, Sandy, for letting us interview you and congratulations from all of us. We're all proud of you."

"Thank you."

"Good bye now."

"Good bye."

And with that the interview ended.

In event the sewing bug has struck, a home economics course, Beginning Clothing Construction (Home Ec. 3), may be something you are looking for.

The course is being offered from 9 a. m. to noon Tuesday and Thursday in Main 313, taught by Mrs. Eleanor Kraker.

Students in the course learn basic skills of clothing construction, the use of sewing and pressing equipment and other considerations in how the well-dressed girl can make her own apparel.

A limit of 15 has been placed on the course. Additional registration will be possible on the first day of the course in the winter quarter. The course, offering general education credit, is open to non-majors and H. E. minors.

by John A. Hill

Only one more serious column, and next week I promise to either be light and witty or to resign from the paper; I must say the latter sounds most appealing. Last week I tried to find some answers to the question of just what does it mean to be a student (I was rather surprised at the response, the affirmative response; I'm never surprised at the negative response), and this week I'm going to try some answers on whom is the student responsible to, and what is he responsible for?

The student is responsible for his own education; unless he takes that responsibility, he will not become educated. A college can provide the buildings, the teachers, the books and the equipment, but these are the environment of higher learning . . . not the learning itself. The student must bring to his teachers an interest in learning . . . not the learning itself. The student must bring to his teachers an interest in learning, a respect for what the teacher can give him, a readiness to learn and a will to become educated. Without that, the teacher does all the work and the student learns merely to accommodate himself to the system by whatever means he can devise.

The student is also responsible for other students and for the quality of the life they lead together. The student is in fact a young adult, should be treated like one, and if so treated, will usually behave like one. If he is given the responsibility for planning and organizing the life of the campus, if he is made responsible to the University for the government of student affairs and for the development of educational and social policy, he responds; there is much evidence of the amount of responsibility students are capable of taking in university administration and the results that have been achieved by student groups in action.

College students are in fact adults, many of them are married, some have children, some have held or are holding jobs, some have written stories, poems, novels, newspaper articles, others have traveled throughout the world. They belong to an international community of youthful adults, a community whose common characteristic is the fact that all its members are involved in the progress of learning to find their place in the world in which they live.

The student is, of course, responsible to his university; but beyond the university, he is also responsible for carrying out his obligations to the world of scholarship and humane learning . . . therefore he is responsible for educational planning. I believe that students should have a central role in the development of educational policy; they are the ones who know at first hand the qualities and values in the education they are receiving, and they have at their disposal a "goldmine" of information to be used for the improvement of American higher education. Too often, however, there is no place where their informed judgments about educational questions can be put to work in a creative way in the structure of the University community. For the most part they are excluded from curriculum planning (unfortunately, here at UMD they are excluded completely), and excluded from the formation of social and educational policy, where there is great and extensive evidence to show what can be and has been accomplished by the work of students on educational problems. This evidence runs all the way from the development of curriculum and athletics to the formation of policy on matters affecting academic freedom and the defense of civil rights and civil liberties.

The point of view of the American student has an important bearing on all such matters, not only because his own interests are affected, but because he has a particular place in American society from which to observe, to comment, and to decide.

The Bulldog Grip . . . Antilla, Birman, Tennison Return As Swim Squad Begins Practice

By DON ROMANO

Another sports season and another call for sports participants. This time it's for swimming. The UMD swimming team this year is coached by a senior, Donald Otto. Otto is hard at work trying to enter a fourteen man squad in the swimming meets, and the only thing which will stop his efforts will be the lack of participants. Here is an excellent opportunity for you to play on a varsity team. Practice for anyone who would like to be on the next MIAC swimming championship team is held at 4:30 p. m. Lets see you all out there.

There is little doubt that the hockey squad is better than last year when they walked away with the MIAC championship. At present the team is warming up for the conference schedule with a number of Canadian junior teams. These teams are made up of boys from 18-20 years old and a few younger boys. Port Arthur carried some kids under 18 but in the game they were used sparingly or not at all. The Canadian teams do pick up kids from their younger leagues but it is seldom that the boys see action. If the score is favorable to them then the kids are used. If any of the students think we were playing 15 year olds, forget it. The junior league in Canada is tough, with all teams counting on the older, and experienced boys.

Norm Olson always has supplied the fans with a fighting cage team and this year is no exception. Last year we watched battles down to the wire with most games settled in the closing minutes. This season it should be better. About 90 per cent of the 1955-56 squad remains with 100 per cent of the team fight still there. Olson may even give us the MIAC championship which has been only a dream at UMD for a number of years. It looks like interesting basketball and we haven't any intention of missing it. Have you?

Romano . . .

Sports editor here (Minnesota) is gung-ho on a UMD-Minnesota puck match, but as Trib Columnist Sid Hartman points out this year's schedule is closed for sure.

Is this another top year for UMD? They aren't printing much here at all, had a brief blurb on the Stout game last night.

Your ex-boss,
Bob

This is a letter we received from Bob Burt, former editor of the STATESMAN, who is now attending Minnesota School of Journalism. Bob, a UMDite all the way, is one of the many followers of our school who is trying to put UMD on the College map. Our appreciation of his letter and support.

By DICK BAKKE

UMD's swimming team has begun workouts at the Bulldog pool. The team this year is under the direction of Don Otto, a student. Mr. Otto, a senior this year, is in his first year of coaching college swimming. He attended the University of Minnesota for three years where he was a varsity letterman on the swimming team. Besides this experience, he has worked with the YMCA and Red Cross in swimming programs and assisted in working with high school teams.

Last year's seven man team placed fourth in the conference meet. Lack on entry in several events prevented the team from placing higher. This year, Mr. Otto plans to enter a fourteen man team in the conference meet.

This year UMD has three lettermen back from last year's squad. They are: Harley Tennison, Bob Antilla and Tim Birman, all from Central. These three make up, at present, the mainstay of this year's team. Several other candidates have reported to practice and their background will be given next week.

In the conference meet last year, UMD's three man medley relay team placed first. This team composed of Tennison, Antilla and Birman missed the conference record by .3 of a second. Although breaking the record during the season, the team missed making it official in the conference.

Harley Tennison lettered in swimming at Central in 1954 and 1955. In 1955 he was captain of the same team. Swimming for UMD last year he placed second in the 220 yard backstroke. If Tennison continues to improve as he did in high school, he should move into first place contention this year at the conference meet.

A second member of last years winning medley team, Bob Antilla, did not swim at UMD and did very well his first year out. Besides the medley relay, Antilla placed fifth as a member of the 440 yard free style relay team. With no high school experience, Antilla has come up fast as a contender in MIAC swimming events.

The third returnee this year is Tim Birman. Although not in school this quarter he will be back this winter. As a member of Central's team, Tim was state champion in the 100 yard breaststroke. Last year he placed second in the 100 yard freestyle event and set a conference record in the 200 yard breaststroke.

With entries in all events this year UMD could have a good chance of taking the conference championship. More swimmers are needed and anyone interested is urged to contact Don Otto. Practice is held in the pool every afternoon at 4:30 p. m. Anyone interested in diving is especially asked to try out as at present no one has participated in this event.

WAA Activities

The annual WAA Christmas Party will be held Tuesday, December 11 at the Phy Ed building, in room 136. The regular WAA activity volleyball, will be held at 3:30 p. m., and the Christmas party at 6:00 p. m. Members are urged to attend both if possible.

Plans for the evening include the singing of Christmas carols, led by Claudia Gran, lunch, and a recreational program. All members are to bring a 25 cent gift.

Committee members are as follows: Food, Di Smith, chairman; Connie Nelson, Marcia Burzynski, Joan Clark and Dorothy Blacktop; Recreation: Char

Sauelson chairman, and Fran Stepetz; Decoration: Sandi Puglisi chairman, Rochelle Hallberg, Joan Engard, Joan Olson and Sue Claveau; Clean-up: Gaille Salo chairman, Sigge Peterson and Elsie Pershem; Publicity: Vi Colich.

The freshmen members have worked hard to make this party a success, and they hope to have a large number of members on hand to enjoy the fun.

The WAA members enjoyed playing volleyball at Denfeld last night, where they were guests of the GAA. We wish to thank them for their hospital ity.

Comparing Scores

HOCKEY

This year UMD won 6-4. UMD lost last year to Port Arthur 8-3.

BASKETBALL

UMD beat Stout 91-81. Last season 89-65.

Ski Club Plans 'Ski Nite'

"Ski Nite," featuring Warren Miller's movie, "Have Skies, Will Travel," and a winter sport style show, is the first project of the new UMD Ski club. The "Ski Nite," under the leadership of club president Vern Amundson, will be held Dec. 12 in the Main auditorium, beginning at 7:30.

Highlights of the movie are: a demonstration with ski flying at Kulin, Austria (one of the largest skiing areas in the world), a slow motion picture showing a German jumper going 405 feet (100 feet longer than the average football field); and a skier falling while going 95 miles an hour on skis, with the result of one broken leg and one badly injured ego. Snow bunnies, those persons of female gender who dress extravagantly to go skiing, and then do nothing but roll in the snow will be shown in the movie, along with a shot of a typical ski field on which the greatest skiers in the world perform to a capacity crowd of 5,000 persons.

Posters will be set up in all campus building, and 300 tickets are available through club members. Price of the tickets is: adults, $1.25, students, $1.00, and children 15 and under $.60.

Cagemen Defeat Stout Institute

The UMD basketball team successfully opened their 1956-57 cage season with a satisfying 91 to 81 victory over sharp-shooting Stout University.

Play in the first half was very close until the Bulldog's spurted to a commanding 46 to 38 lead at half-time. McKillop, Intihar and Berpsiedi were hampered by personal fouls throughout the entire game. When McKillop and Intihar left the game in the second quarter Bob Sharky, marine returnee, and Bob Halunen, Virginia transfer, came in to do creditable jobs. 6' 5" Bob Sharky gained control of the rebounds and pumped through 11 points in spearheading the Bulldog's drive for half-time supremacy. Bob Halunen contributed 8 points and turned in a tremendous defensive job in watching Stout sparkplug Keith Mossner.

UMD sank 37 field goals, and Stout accounted for 27. In the free throw department, Stout accounted for 27 out of 47 attempts. UMD found it hard to connect on their gift tosses, accounting for a mere 17 of 33 chances for less than a 50 per cent average.

A combination of rebound control and a devastating fast breaks proved to be too much for Joe Gerlach's "Blue Devils". With nine minutes remaining the Bulldog's were only ahead by five points. Stout's Keith Mossner fouled out with five minutes remaining and the taller Bulldogs gained complete control of the boards.

Top scorer for the night was Jim Intihar with 23 points, 19 of which came in the second half. He was over-shadowed only by Stout's Keith Mossner who collected 17 points. He attempted nine shots and missed only one for a terrific 89 per cent average.

Scoring for the "Blue Devils" was divided equally between the starting five, each of whom hit in double figures. Center Jim Boln was Stout top scorer with 18 points. Monson, with 12 points and McKillop and Sharky with 15 each were the only other Bulldog's to score in double figures.

With one victory already tucked away under their belts, the UMD cagers shoot for victory number two when they play host to Northland College of Ashland, Friday night.

Northland has lost their first two starts, but looked good in their last game, which they lost by a slim margin to Michigan Tech. Northland is coached by Fred Murphy who is a graduate of UMD. Fred played football for UMD and captained the 1952 squad.

The Northland team has little in the line of "Big Men". The tallest man on the Northland team is 6' 2". Northland's attack will be spearheaded by Doug Smackelberg who was voted an all-conference berth at forward last year. This Northland team has a great deal of potential and will be capable of giving any team a tough game.

On the home scene Coach Norm Olson plans on spending a great deal of this week practice working on defense. "We'd let them score too much, and we missed too many free throws" were Norm Olson's only complaints on last week's game.

St. Thomas Next

Northland college ends pre-conference play and on Tuesday Dec. 11 St. Thomas begins the Bulldogs on the long conference grind.

Last season St. Thomas and UMD split their two game series. St. Thomas won the first 73-53 and the Bulldogs edged them in the second 77-73.

A reliable core of veterans will be at coach Norm Olsons disposal this season. Captain Jack McKillop, who scored 239 points last season leads the returnees. Bob Monson, a guard, switched to forward, scored 200 Jim Intihar, a guard 165, Harold Bergstedt a forward 120 and Jon Sampson, a guard 22 points. They make up Olsons starting unit.

The 14 game MIAC schedule begins with St. Thomas and is completed by Concordia March 2. UMD plays every school twice.

Port Arthur North Stars Lose To Puckmen 6-4

Harvey 'Hat-trick' Flaman and stickhandler Elmer Schwartz provided UMD with an effective one-two punch and sank the Port Arthur North Stars 6-4 Thursday, Nov. 29, at the Curling club.

UMD avenging a 8-3 defeat from last season saw Flaman score three times, Schwartz one, and freshmen Bob Smith and Butch Curran one each.

Coach Connie Pleban shuffled his six lettermen into three lines and came up with the best balanced attack seen at UMD.

Over 1600 fans watched the Bulldogs roll to a 2-1 first period lead on goals by Flaman and Schwartz, up it to 3-2 with Smith scoring and then ice the game as Curran and Flaman scored at the opening of the third stanza and Flaman added his insurance marker at the 18 minute mark. Bud Whitney and Bill Machushak scored two each for the North Stars.

Tempers raged with referees Hank Jensen and Chuck Pillsbury handing out 10 penalties. With five minutes and 24 seconds left, Don Weaver and John Bymark of UMD, and Les Hunt and George Burley of the Stars slugged it out in front of the UMD goal, all receiving five minute penalties.

The play, held in Main auditorium, will feature special music, played by Carol Nelson on the organ. Carol singing will be led by Clyde Rogers.

According to Kay Tree, in charge of the program, "This is a story everyone will enjoy regardless of religious beliefs. The story has new significance in these days of crisis when we must plan the world of tomorrow in which 'good will to men' must be the major credo."

Everyone is invited to join the fun and get into the Christmas spirit.
